imported raw materials where high import duty or indigenous production angles are involved?

THE MINISTER OF COMMERCE AND FOOD AND CIVIL SUPPLIES (SHRI P. SHIV SHANKER): The import of raw materials required for export production by the manufacturer-exporter under the Duty Exemption and Imports-Exports Pass Book Schemes are allowed with Actual Users condition. After taking prior approval, Merchant-Exporters, however, are allowed to transfer imported materials to their supporting manufacturer under the Advance Licensing Scheme. Apart from sufficient in-built safeguards against the misuse of the said schemes, any violation of the condition, attracts penal action under the law.
